Appendix - Bibliography of recommendable Terms glossaries of Commission of science and technical terminology of Academy of Sciences of USSR 1962 - 1980. It is included here because almost half of each issue comprises an extensive bibliography of books and articles on film that were published in the Soviet Union for that year as well as a detailed filmography of the year. In fact, it is not a true guide, but rather a text that provides an overview of the publishing output in the area.

The first three issues used to be available on the Internet, but the site appears to be defunct last time we checked July 2003. Most of the articles include bibliographical references for further reading and are signed by the scholars who wrote them. Any works not included in this list that were not part of the few categories of exceptions were not allowed to be performed on a Soviet stage without prior approval from Glavrepertkom.
