Agreements with our partners are such that there will eventually be free access online to all these digitized records, as the records will be put into the National Archives Catalog.

Records of the Immigration and Naturalization Service [INS]

Errors in arrangement and omissions cannot be corrected. However, only records from after 1906 are available there.

Researching Individuals

The INS was abolished, and its immigration and naturalization recordkeeping functions were transferred to the new Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services within the new Department of Homeland Security, established January 24, 2003, by the Homeland Security Act of 2002 116 Stat. Since 1906, more detailed information has been included in naturalization documents. The date spans overlap and gaps appear as indicated in the listings below.
