Sample Grant Applications

Applicants must read and follow all application instructions in the Application Guide as well as any program-specific instructions noted in. Progress in identifying the genetic and molecular bases for cancer has also intensified efforts to identify more selective and efficacious anticancer compounds. Most of the products in the RAID program will be studied clinically under investigator-held INDs at the originating or a collaborating institution.

Grants and funding

In 2003, NCI and FDA signed a multi-part Interagency Agreement to share knowledge and resources in order to enhance the efficiency of clinical research and the scientific evaluation of new cancer medications see FDA chapter below. Vertebrate Animals The committee will evaluate the involvement of live vertebrate animals as part of the scientific assessment according to the following criteria: 1 description of proposed procedures involving animals, including species, strains, ages, sex, and total number to be used; 2 justifications for the use of animals versus alternative models and for the appropriateness of the species proposed; 3 interventions to minimize discomfort, distress, pain and injury; and 4 justification for euthanasia method if NOT consistent with the AVMA Guidelines for the Euthanasia of Animals. Electronic submission must be successful to Grants.

Funding Opportunities

A variety of native tumor types in immunocompetent mice and rats exist, and these models are reliable, available in numbers adequate for good statistics, low cost, and with well established responses to current anticancer therapies. Histone deacetylase HCAC was another agent pursued through this program. An NCI Preclinical Repository distributes selected agents for peer-reviewed intra- and extramural preclinical studies.
