Rules Subcommittee and Task Force also recommend that the supreme court become more proactive in its oversight of the trial courts and clerks of court specifically with respect to monitoring judicial caseloads, enforcing time standards, ensuring accurate reporting, and assuring greater accuracy in pending caseload reports.

Antitrust & Competition

The supreme court should pursue implementation of a content management system for the entire court system.

Management of Complex Civil Litigation

The Florida Office of the State Courts Administrator OSCA estimates that approximately 2,000 — 3,000 complex cases may be filed each year. Thirteen states have business courts: Colorado, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Nevada, New York, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, and Rhode Island.
