Although Jefferson never himself took any steps beyond the Alleghenies, he was the inspiration of all the Americans who did take those steps. McKenzie Fire and Rescue personnel arrived on scene and confirmed an adult female, later identified as JENNIFER ROSE COACH, age 40, from Blue River, was deceased.

The party was made up of fourteen United States regular soldiers, nine Kentucky volunteers, two French voyageurs, a hunter, an interpreter and a negro servant. Between 2010 and 2012, hunters accompanying ARONSON killed dozens of elk, including several large trophy elk that were shot and killed by persons without valid tags, and at least 9 buffalo from a neighboring ranch without the ranch owner's consent. Their work demonstrates how the arts and creative practitioners support local business, jobs and cultural tourism; build vibrant downtowns and rural centers; and knit people together in community.
