Coping With the Pandemic: Lincoln and the Wisdom of the Ages

August 1, 1858 Fragment on Democracy I think we have fairly entered upon a durable struggle as to whether this nation is to ultimately become all slave or all free, and though I fall early in the contest, it is nothing if I shall have contributed, in the least degree, to the final rightful result. He was especially noted for the skill and strength with which he could wield an ax. I speak knowing what I say.

87 Abraham Lincoln Quotes

I saw that it involved the greatest difficulties, and would call forth all the powers of the whole country. Hackett I am thankful to God for this approval of the people.

Coping With the Pandemic: Lincoln and the Wisdom of the Ages
