Living in a Co

Thus provincial governments have aligned their housing standards and planning practices along those of CMHC. The new agreement will allow the agency to initiate start-up and administrative activities to ensure the successful transition of certain administrative and portfolio management activities beginning in early 2006. Even though many people are members of co-operatives like credit unions, or MODO, or MEC, co-ops are still less familiar than limited companies and charities.

For example, the co-op may need to offer a certain number or percentage of units as subsidized housing. . .

About Us

. CMHC is a state-owned enterprise, or a Crown corporation, which provides a range of services for home buyers, the government, and the housing industry.

Funding Programs

Compliance with the Operating Agreement is monitored. Specific parts of the process, though, will differ from co-op to co-op.

Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation (CMHC)

The New ApproachIn April 2005, the Government of Canada, through Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation CMHC, and the Co-operative Housing Federation of Canada concluded an agreement which allowed the national federation to complete research and development activities for the successful start-up of a Co-operative Housing Programs Administration Agency. The scheduled expiry of federal programs created uncertainty for co-ops across the country, as those expiries could mean the end of subsidies. Enshrining the need for a National Housing Strategy in law inherently acknowledges the value of a coordinated approach, a shared vision and real accountability.
