Poverty and Development in Africa

Although Sub-Saharan Africa boasts the world's highest rate of urban migration, cities and governments fall short in providing basic social services. In other words, they were a poor basis for long-term manufacturing and export development. Which has brought about, lack of housing vacancy rate, due to the rapid job growth and housing costs that has increased.

Economic development

Some of the questions posed by these political scientists are: why can Latin America not follow the East Asian Development Strategy; when do states cooperate; and, how should the US change its foreign policy in the Post-Cold War world? The Bank is well-positioned not only to help cities expand access to finance from multiple sources, including private finance, but also to strengthen their fiscal capacities and systems that can be sustained in the long run. This comparison also reveals significant differences in technological response across countries, sectors and firms.
