The Catholic

For us, this proclamation is a word of freedom.

Report of the Committee to Study the Doctrine of Justification: The Orthodox Presbyterian Church

This is not in dispute at all. Are Catholic hospitals set up and run for the benefit of human life, or for evil? Apostolic era and papacy Jesus' commission to The , in particular the , records Jesus' activities and teaching, his appointment of the Twelve Apostles and his of the apostles, instructing them to continue his work. The general rule, however, is that those who seek to rebel against their God-ordained authorities have the burden of proof.

O J Bennett

All are born in original sin, not in friendship with God. In 64CE he arrived in Ephesus, then under the Apostle John, after lobbying Rome for the Herodians in Macedonia see Josephus.

O J Bennett

Although the word of God precedes and exceeds sacred Scripture, nonetheless Scripture, as inspired by God, contains the divine word cf. The silence of God, the experience of the distance of the almighty Father, is a decisive stage in the earthly journey of the Son of God, the incarnate Word.

Is the Catholic Church a force for evil in the world?

Instead, as an obedience unto death, the crucifixion must be seen as the end or climax of a longer course of obedience.

O J Bennett

But justification has no parts. . However, as time and science has shown it's primitive and with a lack of any evidence at all, it certainly can't be used as a model to control ones morals and decisions.

Bennett J F

In response to perennial suspicion that the Reformed doctrine of justification makes Christians antinomian or indifferent to holy living, Scripture and the Westminster Standards make clear that justification and sanctification are distinct yet inseparable.

Post

Hence, I recommend that deacons nourish their lives by the faith-filled reading of sacred Scripture, accompanied by study and prayer.
