Also on the all-French composers program is a new pas de deux evoking 19th-century Paris by Christopher Stowell, and two company premieres: Stowell's Zais, inspired by the court of Versailles, and Robbins' iconic Afternoon of a Faun to Debussy. The Point of Departure is Robin Cook's unvarnished account of this extraordinary period in our political history. Sometimes, you have to modify the point of departure first before using the equation below.
