It is situated about 8 miles 13 km west-northwest of, and includes the areas of, , , , and. Included also in fur coat at centre is the professor who taught his children languages and Inspector Craig of Paddington Station far right. The identities of the models for the detectives, the identity of the gentleman clearly seen studying the broad gauge engine, the private life and work of the artist himself, the life story of John Tawell, the early telegraph apparatus used and the restrictions it placed on the message sent from Slough are all fascinating subjects for further reading.

Wembley Park

In the stadium, some poor weather, and the inferior quality of the running track, slowed the track-and-field competition times. Therefore, there have been eight distinctly different models designed in the Margate drawing office in the last 45 years. The recently built Caerphilly Castle was placed on show from May to October 1924, and during the same period in 1925 its place was taken by Pendennis Castle.
