Death of his son John, in his twenty-first year. The same circumstance confined his clerical functions to the limits of a very small parish, of which he discharged the cure to the last day of his life.

Fellowship of Friends Discussion, part 41

But the Lord was kind to me, by his secret hand, when in weakness of body : and upon serious search I found nothing but peace, and that I had got my day's work done so far. We re- turned from thence to Woodbridge, and through Jersey to Pennsylvania again ; and after having some meetings amongst Friends, went to the Yearly Meet- ing at Burlington, which was very large, and held several days; in which meeting the Lord's blessed power was richly manifested. Concerning the sufferings of Friends I have drawn them up in three copies, one for the King, and the other two for the Speakers, and then I intend to print it.
