Student Role Play: Lead your students through practicing the interaction you have created together: you might have them rehearse in pairs and then have a few groups perform for everyone: you can have all perform or a few depending on the size of your group.

Animating Expressive Characters for Social Interaction

The appraisal-based approach does not only take into account the subjective evaluation of a situation that gives rise to an emotional experience but it directly links the outcome of this appraisal process to the other components of emotions.
