From Romanticism to Surrealism: Seven Spanish Poets

Taken together, the poems and letters are a history, a dramatic monologue, and a crushing and inevitable ending to the story of a man consumed by his love and his art. Now I love you, as the sea loves its water: from outside, from above, making itself nonstop with it storms, leaks, shelters, breaks, calms.

Critical Reception of the Poetry of Pedro Salinas: 1969

Salinas's wife attempts suicide after discovering her once undeniable union with the poet had been penetrated; an action that ultimately led Reding to realize the malice and deception of their love affair. This trilogy of love poems, the last posthumous of which has never been translated before, are of a nature to win a large and devoted audience: they are at once passionate, eloquent, and whimsical. A romantic reflection on love runaway.
