Century 21 Exposition (1962): Music at the Fair

Rather, the fair saw women still largely confined to the domestic realm. Mark the 50th with these celebratory local handcrafted drinks, made just for the occasion: Official Beer: Pike Brewing Company's Space Needle Golden Anniversary Ale. In January, local breweries crafted brews and, each competing to have their entry be the official beer of the Space Needle 50th. It had a very distinct poodle logo on it that draws my attention as a collector of Worlds Fair memorabilia.

I did not have the one he saw and it was a vivid blue scene of the whole fair with Mt. Some of the land necessary had been already donated to the city, and some was purchased, and some was cleared by tearing down existing buildings such as a public elementary school, several of the city's oldest houses and apartments, and a fire station. This replica stood outside the Washington State Capital Museum until 1990, when it was taken down. By April 1962, all that remained to be done was to open the doors to the public, which occurred during an extravagant opening ceremony on the 21st. May your days of treasure hunting and researching history be as fulfilling as mine have been.
