A Brief Introduction of China

With spectral measurements from bandwidths at the order of tens of wavenumbers, the GOES Sounder has been found to be very useful for preconvective warnings and weather forecasts by providing near-real-time products that include clear-sky radiances, profiles of temperature and moisture, atmospheric instability indices, LPW, TPW, cloud-top retrievals pressure, temperature, and effective cloud amount , surface skin temperature, water vapor atmospheric motion vectors, and total ozone ; ; ; . The European Centre for Medium-Range Weather Forecasts ECMWF analysis was used in FY-4A GIIRS retrieval simulation.
