Anita Bryant

The Policy Institute of the National Gay and Lesbian Task Force expanded the analysis of questions of importance to LGBT people with its report Campus Climate for Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual and Transgender People : A National Perspective by Susan Rankin. During its years of existence it established local chapters in Chicago, New England, New York and Los Angeles, and published two periodicals , Gay Academic Union Journal : Gai Saber between 1977 and 1978, and the Gay Academic Union Newsletter beginning in 1978.

Denning, a feminist, journalist, and political activist with an abiding belief in nonviolence, had been an out lesbian since the age of sixteen. Campus Climate for Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual and Transgender People : A National Perspective. Suzanne Pharr argued that a progressive movement has to address multiple concerns.

Duberman, Martin B. [WorldCat Identities]

A number of women left GLF over differing notions of what exactly sexual liberation meant and in frustration with chauvinism in the group.

Martin Duberman

Fighting AIDS meant fighting racism, sexism, homophobia, classism, and the lack of access to health care in America. It brought to the forefront a glaring example of the divide between queers with an interest in social and economic justice for all, and gay advocates who see their movement as a single issue.
