10 Worst Human Rights Violations of All Time

The 2006 lawsuit lodged by the country's second largest media company, Grupo Editorial Perfil, against the federal government's use of government advertising as a means of indirect censorship remained pending at year's end. Fundamental human rights of persons with disabilities The United Nations Charter affirms the essentiality of a universal respect for, and observance of, human rights and fundamental freedoms for all without distinction The rights of individuals with disabilities are grounded in a human rights framework based on the United Nations Charter, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, international covenants on human rights and related human rights instruments.

Argentina, 1975

Similarly, in ESMA, a clandestine center in Buenos Aires, they drugged many of the shackled prisoners with Valium in order to subdue them-once in the basement and again while boarding onto the plane.

Report: Contrás responsible for most human rights abuses

Sala was charged with instigating protesters to commit crimes and with sedition. The country is still a source, transit point, and destination for trafficked persons.

Argentina Finds Its Voice on Human Rights

Additionally, detainees are placed into overcrowded prisons where they often face repeated torture and violence. Also in October 2008 the first indigenous radio station, the Indigenous Voice, began broadcasting programs aimed at indigenous communities in Salta Province. Laws mandating greater access to buses and trains for persons with disabilities also are not enforced fully.

A Chronology of the Global Human Rights Struggle — Global Issues

Another issue present under the current constitution comes from the power that military courts possess over the legal process. In August 2008 Amnesty International reported that a woman died every two days as a result of domestic violence. Judicial proceedings related to killings, disappearances, and committed by the 1976-83 military dictatorship continue to this day.

Historic Abuses of Human Rights in Chile

However, the human rights situation in Argentina has improved since. That Argentina mimicked the process of stripping them of their identity and dignity, both literally and figuratively, underscores their goal of dehumanizing prisoners. There is no agreement on the actual number of detenidos-desaparecidos.
