In the wars of 1641 this castle was garrisoned by the Earl of Clanricarde; In 1643, through the contrivance of a tenant of the Earl, the management of a Franciscan friar, and the carelessness of the warders, it was surprised by Capt. He was their friend, but disdained to be the tool and football of their party. Letters from the kingdom of Kerry, the year 1845.

I see, plainly, that we have no occasion to impute vengeance to the exalted Creator of those smiling scenes of natural beauty at this moment bursting on the view, and whose benevolence has provided every thing for the happiness of man ; the wretchedness of this community, through whom we have wandered so much, may well be traced to definite causes on earth, without making Heaven a party to it. The richly varied lives of the Martin brothers reflected the many upheavals of Britain in the age of Industrial Revolution.
