The Pilgrim's Progress

We are Saturday people living between Good Friday and Resurrection Sunday. And though death, to a saint of God, is stripped of its terrors, robbed of its sting, and disarmed of its victory; though, to the expiring believer it is but a portal of life into the mansions of eternal bliss, yet, say what we may, the portal casts a shadow.

Psalms, PSALM 23

The pilgrims meet an Atheist, who tells them Heaven and God do not exist, but Christian and Hopeful remember the shepherds and pay no attention to the man. This means to serve Jesus and to love Jesus before all other people, and before all other things.

On the Spirituality of Light and Dark

Such should remember that David, though he lived long, never wrote but one twenty-third Psalm.

Psalm 121: The Unbelievable Promise

Even though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for you are with me; your rod and your staff, they comfort me.

Psalms, PSALM 23

David felt comforted that his Shepherd was guarding his steps, making sure that he makes it through the darkness safely. The pass and its terrors. Grace and Love The Lord is so good to us.

What does it mean to walk through the valley of the shadow of death?

Again, we hear those whistles as the cult communicates in its own secret language. We might say that the shepherd's presence did not eliminate the presence of evil, but certainly the fear of evil. He is known to Christian as a fellow resident of the City of Destruction, living on Prating Row.
