

Master Fynes his speech in Parliament - touching the proffer of the citie of London by the Lord Maior: on Thursday the 17. of February, 1641. to disburse 60000 l. towards the suppressing the rebellion in Ireland.

Printed for F.C. and T.B - Master Fynes his speech in Parliament touching the proffer of the citie of London by the Lord Maior on Thursday the 17. of February, 1641 [microform] : to disburse 60000 l. towards the suppressing the rebellion in Ireland in SearchWorks catalog

Description: -

-Master Fynes his speech in Parliament - touching the proffer of the citie of London by the Lord Maior: on Thursday the 17. of February, 1641. to disburse 60000 l. towards the suppressing the rebellion in Ireland.

-Master Fynes his speech in Parliament - touching the proffer of the citie of London by the Lord Maior: on Thursday the 17. of February, 1641. to disburse 60000 l. towards the suppressing the rebellion in Ireland.

Notes: Wing F-879.

This edition was published in 1641

Filesize: 62.73 MB

Tags: #Master #Fynes #his #speech #in #Parliament #touching #the #proffer #of #the #citie #of #London #by #the #Lord #Maior #...

MPG.eBooks

Available via the World Wide Web. Mead Psrliament Excellence Award, and he has been nominated yearly, but winning has been limited to one time.

[TCP] Master Fynes his speech in Parliament: touching the proffer of the citie of London by the Lord Maior: on Thursday the 17. of February, 1641. to disburse 60000l. towards the suppressing the rebellion in Ireland.

B London Wikipedia Citation Please see for further citation fields that may be required. B Publishers Printed for F.

Τεκμήρια: Master Fynes his speech in Parliament touching the proffer of the citie of London by the Lord Maior on Thursday the 17. of February, 1641

The rebellion in Ireland is so generall, that it is not the force of one Army can suppressē them in every place; and if the like proffer were made ei ther by other Cities, or the Merchants joyne to gether, or if any great perfonages in this Kingdome, whereof money or armes, or what force they could raise for other severall places in subjection to the Rebels, and upon such propolitions to be pre sented unto the Parliament; I conceive it would be the speediest course to subdue the Rebels, and reduce that Kingdome to the due obedience to His Majestie and the Crowne of England, and to the Lawes and Ordinances made by His Majestie, and His States of both Kingdomes. Master Fynes his speech in Parliament touching the proffer of the citie of London by the Lord Maior on Thursday the 17.

Master Fynes his speech in Parliament: : touching the proffer of the citie of London by the Lord Maior: on Thursday the 17. of February, 1641. to disburse 60000l. towards the suppressing the rebellion in Ireland

B MLA Citation Fiennes, Nathaniel .

Master Fynes his speech in Parliament touching the proffer of the citie of London by the Lord Maior ...

These things considered and joyned with future hopes of preferment, may prove a maine cause to dehort Souldiers from revolting to the Rebels, and to draw such as are revolted backe againe to their lawfull service and true obedience.

Related Books

- Future of natural fibres - papers presented at a Shirley Institute Conference on 29-30 November 1977
- Ontarios Public Land - A Guide to Its Use.
- E-D-I or D-I-E - will your corporation be ready for the 21st century? : a comprehensive look at elec
- Mans search for himself
- General Quiroga, 1829-1835