Army Specialized Training Program, civilian and Army students on Quad

Moving up through the ASTP seemed like a promising alternative. Reservists were called to active duty at the end of the academic term in which they turned 18.

ASTP in WWII

It is the second largest military occupational specialty MOS in the Army second only to the Infantry. Because of this, bomb techs need to know how to maximize the effects of the often-limited amounts of gear they carry such as explosives, which are used to dispose of IEDs or captured enemy material and weapons.
