Bengali Greats Series: Raja Rammohun Roy

Always firmly committed to the Unitarian tradition in all its aspects, Carpenter was an untiring advocate of friendly relations with all the great world faiths, and especially with the religions of the East, of which he had an astonishingly detailed knowledge. Member, Advisory Committee of various educational institutions and practically engaged in social awareness programmes. Tagore has continued to be esteemed by Unitarians, and an extract from his Gitanjali was read at the funeral of John Andrew Storey 1935-1997, who wrote thirty-two hymns for the Unitarian hymn-book Hymns for Living Knight and Dawson, 1985, drawing on Mahayana Buddhism, Akhenaton, Omar Khayyam, science, Hinduism, humanism, universalism, Confucius and Chinese thought, the current Dalai Lama, ecology and nature, multiculturalism, Socrates, and the ancient Egyptian Book of the Dead.

Rajarsi Rammohun Roy

In the meeting of the small Committee, mentioned above, held recently in Calcutta on 6 December, 1971, much stress was laid on the fact that since we have got the statement of the son about the date of birth of his father that must be accepted without any further question. The indigo planters left no stones unturned to make money.
