A guide to bird finding west of the Mississippi

About this book Marked by its superb natural beauty, Costa Rica has the greatest percentage of preserved land of any nation worldwide; nearly a third of the country is protected in national parks, reserves, and refuges. They are the only birds that can fly backwards. One species has been recorded in Washington.

Birding Hotspots

Some red morph females have a red wash, red splatches, or are entirely red.

Birding Hotspots

The most typical family members occupy dense vegetation in damp environments near lakes, swamps, or rivers. Here we look at 5 apps which we think are informative and fun to use. Like other birds in the order Pelecaniformes, they have four webbed toes.

Birds found in Washington

Two species have been recorded in Washington. White tail; legs and feet are pink.
