Putting the Ocean in Atlantic History: Maritime Communities and Marine Ecology in the Northwest Atlantic, 1500

It is not so with the knowledge of facts. I will make cities and civilizations defer to me! Many cases have been brought before us indicating that at times migrants have not been given the justice to which everyone should be entitled.

From these figures it becomes plain that western- river steamboat-building fell from its maximum before the war, as a result of railroad-competition, and not as a result of the war itself. He is certain of his pay, whatever it may be, whenever honest effort may have been completed, and without awaiting the collection of the value of what he has produced from its Ultimate Consumer. Still New Bedford swallowed half of America's whaling output by mid-century.

The Spectacular Rise and Fall of U.S. Whaling: An Innovation Story

But wherever the barbarian culture has been sufficiently long-lived and unmitigated to work out a thoroughly selective effect in the human material subjected to it, there the pragmatic animus may be expected to have become supreme and to inhibit all movement in the direction of scientific inquiry and eliminate all effective aptitude for other than worldly wisdom. That is to say, however a man may disregard pecuniary considerations in order to be a scientist, an artist, a patriot or a preacher and however these PRODUCTION 57 callings may be of great productivity in the broader sense of the term it is still true that whatever effort he gives to production in its routine sense is in defiance of these personal, non-economic preferences.

As such, it also draws attention to the problems and contradictions that have been experienced by those who tried to use his concepts to design and implement strategies to democratize processes of policy analysis and policy-making. Rightly seen from this ultra-modern point of view, this modern science and this point of view which it affects are, of course, a feature of the current cultural situation,—of the process of life as it runs along under our eyes.
