A extensive catalog of hot metal type faces from the 1930-40s era. Contact Special Collections Czech date unknown Vzorík Písem. It is extremely fast and was one of the first low-cost output systems.

Linotype machine

According to the copy held by the Czech National Library, the collation calls for the text part 4 pp and 20 plates. If there's something here that is puzzling to you - especially if it is puzzling with regard to understanding a particular example in a specific type specimen - please e-mail me so that I can revise the material so as better to explain it.

Online Resources

Included are 2 index cards. Century Catalogue Italic is basically a re-working of , only the A, V and W being different.

Century type family

This may or may not be significant; probably it isn't. Width goes up as point size goes up, and they ran out of width in the magazine channels first. Contact us for postage costs.

Reading Metal Type Specimens

{MPC 1890} The New Linotype. Variations in weight and the italic variation in style are the prime examples.

Phototypesetting

Directly behind the mold disk is the crucible, which contains molten at an optimal  $535^{\circ}$ . Code 126 is unused while code 127 is used for pi matrices described below. Printers have a great respect for their type and the words that they create from those letters, and this simple card is a thank you note to them.
