Adults / Minnesota Department of Human Services

Older persons should have access to health care to help them to maintain or regain the optimum level of physical, mental and emotional well-being and to prevent or delay the onset of illness. Or content your or Public Health Nurse to access community services in your area. Medical students who receive communication training improve dramatically in talking with, assessing, and building relationships with patients.

Older adult services

You might ask the patient to repeat back the diagnosis or care plan in his or her own words—this can help with recall, as well. Effective doctor-patient communication has research-proven benefits: Patients are more likely to adhere to treatment and have better outcomes, they express greater satisfaction with their treatment, and they are less likely to file malpractice suits.
