Unpacking the National Development Strategy

The document is large, over 300 pages all appendices included and there is a lot to digest. It is also futile to spend too much ink describing how things will be done because, as far as I am concerned, the how is a dynamic creative process which will continually be influenced by both internal and external developments. As understanding of sustainable development increases, and it becomes clear that this is the key mechanism for building capacity and governance to achieve human development based on sustainable production and consumptions systems, government and society across all spheres and all sectors will approach and address the issues identified in this strategy with the seriousness they deserve.

National Development Strategy 1 (2021)

Goals The first clear goal of NDS1 is to foster macroeconomic stability as a platform for growth. The need for the promotion of employability was identified.

National Development Strategy to accelerate economic growth

OUTCOME 10 In 2030, rural communities are thriving and prosperous, cities are compact and energy efficient, the public know the dangers of climate change and unconstrained consumption of natural resources is no more.

National Sustainable Development Strategies (NSDS) :: Sustainable Development Knowledge Platform

Finally, for transformative and inclusive growth to bring benefits to all Zimbabweans in a fair, transparent and just manner, we must deepen our commitment to the tenets of good corporate governance as enunciated in our Vision 2030 document.

The National Development Plan: A vision for 2030

This will help to achieve accelerated, high, inclusive, broad-based and sustainable economic growth and development. Added to this will be the necessary research and quantification of what is possible within each province. This does not mean that private providers no longer have a role to play.

The National Development Plan: A vision for 2030

There is more than enough work for all at least for the duration of NSDS III. We operate from Cape Town, Dakar, Abuja, Johannesburg, Nairobi and Washington DC. The NDS1 is the first of two 5 year plans that are intended to put legs under the much talked about vision 2030.
