The general principle, however, is to divide the week's work whatever it is into tightly focused sections, where quality outweighs quantity, and allow for a day or two at the end to pull everything back together.

My child's violin practice is making us tired, what can we do?

Qualifying schools include primary, secondary, and undergraduate institutions. Word got around and someone asked me for to help them just a week later.

One hour spent doing more or less the same thing over and over again is not only not productive it's probably destructive. Eine Einführung in die Geschichte der Violine und des Violinspiels. Most people don't become professionals and just enjoy music as a hobby and that is absolutely fine! As one of my teachers once said when I got mad, because it just wasn't working out as I wanted: The elevator to success is out of order, you'll have to use the stairs, one step at a time.
