Volume 14, text 04, - I think that machik is the author of this text, but can you verify that for me? Volume 09, text 005 - - this text contains another text by the 5th Shamarpa at the end, starting on 9a.

Chökyi Nyima says author is Chos rgyal 'phag pa from the lam 'bras pod dmar , but blo gros mtha' yas is in colophon.

Volume 15, text 019 - - It seems Kongtrul mentioned kun mkhyen dol po pa sangs rgyas in the colophon: 17a3 middle. Also, I believe the last line of the colophon should read geig las med na instead of geig las mad na, but this needs to be verified.

Volume 17, text 026 - - There is a short colophon on 1a7 that attributes the opening verses to pan+de blo gsal. Taranatha is mentioned as a translator, and the end of the colophon seems to qualify him as an author as well. Volume 11, text 001 - - I've put Niguma down as the author for this text- the colophon lists who bought it back from India, and who translated it, and the title clearly attributes the text to Niguma.

Not to lose the bodhichitta. I'm not sure if we want to keep the prakrit? Not to malign spiritual traditions other than the Tantras, in particular the Mahayana Sutras. I think it refers to the former because of the note on TBRC's website.

Go

Did this kun dga' chos gron request the teaching from someone named la stod byang? This needs to be verified. Volume 17, text 029 - - There appears to be a colophon on 9b4 in addition to the one at the end of the text.
