Ethnic minorities face barriers to social mobility and job opportunities

The ethnic groups that make up the smallest proportions of those employed within Great Britain are the Bangladeshi and Chinese ethnic groups, at 0.

Race discrimination

To avoid the issue of perfect multi-collinearity, we must omit one factor from each characteristic group that we can compare our analysis to.

Race Discrimination at Work

In the Equality Act, race can mean your colour, or your nationality including your citizenship. For example, the pay gap estimates for Bangladeshi and Chinese women show greater volatility over time.

Employment by occupation

Also available through the website are BSL interpretation, web chat services and a contact us form. It sounds like a recipe for disadvantage, and that is borne out in experiments.

How racist is Britain?

What happens, happens there first before we in the UK take heed and follow suit. This factsheet offers an overview of the different types of discrimination, with examples of how they apply to race discrimination. Tom Clark, Gaby Hinsliff and Philip Ball chart the persistent failures—from both the chief scientists and the politicians.

Racism in the UK workplace: The Facts

In 2012, Pakistani and Bangladeshi ethnic groups had pay gaps of 18.
