How the UK Makes Money

How long before someone invents the virtual watercooler? Remote workers may also shift consumption patterns. Manufacturing and production contribute less than 21% of the GDP, and agriculture contributes about 0. Across all sectors, 38 percent of respondents expect their remote employees to work two or more days a week away from the office after the pandemic, compared to 22 percent of respondents surveyed before the pandemic.

Food stores were the biggest contributor to that monthly increase up 4. Quarantines, lockdowns, and self-imposed isolation have pushed tens of millions around the world to work from home, accelerating a workplace experiment that had struggled to gain traction before COVID-19 hit. These locales have attracted many of the same type of younger, highly educated workers who can best work remotely.
